

Natasha Galavotti

President
Bimbo QSR

Natasha is President of Bimbo QSR, the world's largest baking company for the leading global food service brands. With an ever-expanding footprint of over 50 facilities in 24 countries, Natasha's deep experience in global manufacturing, sales, supply chain and sustainability drives continuous growth. Putting people first, Natasha leads with purpose and passion.

Based in Chicago, Natasha has lived and worked extensively across global public and private companies in Asia, Europe, North America and Latin America leading a range of critical functions for sustained top and bottom-line results.

An Advisory Board member of AWESOME (Achieving Women's Excellence in Supply Chain and Operations) and a United Way of Metropolitan Chicago (UWMC) cabinet member, Natasha also belongs to The Economic Club of Chicago, Executives Club of Chicago, The Chicago Club and The Belizean Grove.

A former professional basketball player and Big 5 Hall of Fame inductee, Natasha positively correlates lessons in athletics to peak business performance. Natasha is President of the En Garde Club for The Ohio State University's men and women's fencing team.

Natasha has an MBA in International Business from the University of South Carolina and BA in Russian from the University of Pennsylvania. Natasha is married with four children.