

Geraldine Keefe

Geraldine is head of Investment Banking for the Midwest Region and a member of the Industrials Group within Investment Banking. She joined Goldman Sachs in 2000 as an analyst on the UK Advisory team in London and transferred to the Industrials Group in San Francisco in 2004. After leaving in 2006 to pursue an MBA, Geraldine rejoined the firm in 2008 as a member of the Americas Special Situations Group in the Securities Division in New York, where she worked on minority equity investments in privately owned businesses. She returned to the Industrials Group in 2009 and was named vice president the same year. Geraldine was named managing director in 2013 and partner in 2016.

Geraldine serves on the Board of Trustees of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, on the Posse Foundation Chicago Advisory Board and is the chair of the US Foundation for the University of Bristol. She is also a member of the Civic Committee of the Commercial Club of Chicago.

Geraldine earned a master's degree in Aerospace Engineering from Bristol University in 2000 and an MBA, with high distinction, from Harvard Business School in 2008.